

Staff Impression 10B35

Face: He has a rectangular-oval shaped head that is of larger than average size. It is a long, strong facial shape. His forehead is set of slightly larger than average height. He has a larger than average jaw width that is strong and pronounced. His chin is naturally pointed, slightly more prominent than average, and of average size.

Lips: Donor 10B35 has a very slightly thinner than average upper lip and average-sized lower lip, with an average smile that reveals his upper set of teeth with minimally reveals his lower set of teeth.

Nose: His nose is slightly larger than average, rounded when viewed from the front and straight when viewed in profile. He has above average nostril width flare when not smiling and slightly larger when smiling. When viewing in profile, the tip of his nose is pointed ever so slightly in the downward position. It is hardly noticeable when he is not smiling but when he smiles, it is a little more noticeable. From the front, it is hardly noticeable. He has a very masculine, strong and straight bridge with a flesh-colored mole on the right side.

Ears: 10B35 has smaller than average ears that are a close distance from his face and visible when viewed from the front, with detached earlobes. They are set slightly lower than average from the middle of his face.

Eyes: His eyes are almond shaped, and average in size. His upper eyelids are full and visible when smiling. They are an average width apart, and placed of average height on his face. His upper and lower eyelashes are straight and long in length.

Eyebrows: 10B35 has medium-sized eyebrows that are angled in shape. His brow bone of his forehead is strong and masculine. It is set slightly forward from his face when viewed from his profile.

Summary: This donor has a larger than life presence when he walks into the room. He is noticed immediately due to his height and nice physical body build. When engaged, 10B35 is quick to laugh and light up the room. He does have a serious side to him and when he is focused, he provides his full attention. Donor 10B35 stands up to his principles, almost to a fault and is a very insightful, thoughtful, and hardworking individual.