Why do you want to be a donor?

I want to be a donor because I love the idea of helping people. I love the idea of helping to create families for those who may not be able to.

Please describe your personality and character.

I am nice, funny, kind, witty, smart, fun to be around, love life, always want to help others, I love people. I have high morals and values. I am a very hard worker. I believe in doing what is right above all else no matter how painful it may be to yourself. I believe in being honest no matter what. I always try to think about things in the deepest way I guess I'm introverted in that way. I am a problem solver and try to reason out every problem I face like a chess game to find the solutions. I am huge on family and believe a strong family is one of the most important things in life.

What are your hobbies, interests, and talents?

I enjoy weight lifting (power lifting) running, swimming and chess. I am an avid chess player, my father taught me from the time I could hold the pieces. Always up for a good debate. I love history, science and math. I like comedy and action movies. Love to watch a good tv show love brit comedy shows. Like video games, I like novels fantasy, mystery and love good history and conspiracy books. Most of my talents are in martial arts, shooting, archery, hunting, fishing and outdoors stuff it makes me happy.

If a message could be passed on to the recipient of your donation, what would that message be?

The most important things in life are things, I would hope you would love and treasure your children and family more than anything. I would hope you would build a strong family with good morals and values, love each other and always make the most of life. I would hope you would treat the child well with all the dignity, love and respect a person deserves.

Describe your philosophy of life.

Live, Laugh and Love that's what I believe. I think those 3 things are most important. I also believe in very hard work and discipline. If you live life to its fullest
